Hi All.

As you know there is a "new Gun" in the town giving GW a bit of a "kick in the butt" and i would like to know what you think about it..... Privateer Press's Warmachine & Hordes.. Have you played or seen it played? Do you like the idea & structure of the game?? ....do you like the models...and most importantly...is the PRICE RIGHT!!!.

I have my own opinion but lets see what YOU THINK!!!

Cheers.

Captain Stevo.

I like the fact that you could almost select a list a random and it could be fairly competative and the fact it has great tactical depth to suit different play styles.

Another thing is that although the miniatures are getting quite expensive, I can still use my whole collection - even the older models..

On the downside (apart form the cost) is that some of the newer miniature releases have been quite poor - quality wise..

It's still my favourite game by a long way though
